Re : Testamomial for Jakub Kosiec of Compmage

Dear Jakub,

Thank-you so much for coming to sort out our computer data back-up requirements this week.

As a small business we're not always able to invest in the newest hi-tech computer equipment and software but it's fair to say we are equally as vulnerable as larger companies if the hard disk on our main computer was to become corrupted and we lost many years of valuable customer information.

By listening carefully to the requirements of our business, you were able to recommend a great software product which automatically backs up all of our computer files every night, not only making them available for recovery if required, but also making them available to view online from any computer in the world at any time via a password protected website.

We feel much safer as a result !

Kind Regards,
